THE TIMES—DISPATCH: RICHMON D, VA., THURSDAY, JULY 14, 1904. A TEE-DEE WANT AD. WILL SAVE YOU TIME, TROUBLE, PATIENCE AND MONEY

when your straw hat gets caught in a sudden shower.
That's the time of all your life you want to die.
When lants play tag upon your spinal

When crickets jump into your glass of tea;

You realize that you are at a picule. And you are just as happy as can be.

These lines from the works of the immortal pard, occur to us as we lug a big basket filled with sausage sandwiches, cheese and chicken legs, off into the woods in the wake of a bunch of rosy checked, freekled face girls in white shoes and stockings.

Our own white trousers at $1.9, from The Nelson's, ain't a marker to the white costume of the girls; especially the big one, who has made an engagement with us to awing her in the hammock after we eat our luncheon under the tail oak trees.

we ent our luncheon under the tall oak trees.
We have to swing in a hammock ourself, and the next time we go off into the woods with white duck trousers and custard nies, we are going to eat our snack standing up.
We linte to come back with grass stains all over the bosom of our trousers, and red lemonade stains down our pleated shirt front.

And catch an awful fail.

We don't mind going home in a barrel from the sea shore, but when you have to return from the woods with a bave of girls, in a barrel, with your hands full of daisles and ferns and wild lamey suckle, there is a feeling of embarrassment, that even your multitude of sins can't cover.

ment, that even your multitude of sins can't cover. The next time we go on a pienic, we are going in a boat, so's we can swim the shadows of night fell, we met Louis Gisselbrecht.

He has just retwened from Oklahoma, where he went Minday morning. On his return he passed through Lynchhurg and came down the James River division. The train struck a storm and it rained so much that the passengers were afraid the train would turif over and they would all be drowned.

At one place, the water washed the ties from under the track and landed them on top, and when the pussengers got through repairing the track, the train was so late that everybody missed the last car and had to walk home.

We like a liar, if he only lies in the old was so late that everybody missed the last car and had to walk home.

We like a liar, if he only lies in the old fashloned way,
But when a man lies like this one, he is getting a little too gay.

The letier to us from the office boy, telling of his trip to the Reservoir, must be read to be appreciated. Here it be:
Reservoir Park.

We certainly do like to go around in the "Aquarama" and see the "Debell" and his companion with his buts flying over like a statue. The next thing you come to see the best of the control of the cluster to call in. Then you come to statue, the next thing you come to get to the "argest" engine in the world, with its "large" coaches that only two people can get in them. Next you come to the "Shoot the Fool," that is the finest of them all, but ft isn't nee to get wet when you are with your girl, and she has on her new white dress, just made. It is only fun after all. Next you come to the "merry go round." That is nice-taiching star rings as you go by, and listening to the "beautiful musle," Then you go down to "toboggan silde" and get a nice ride up and down till you get to the end. Then you go in the "swimming pool" and get a nice wash off, and pass by and get your "picture taken" from "Jim Squezer." After all you go on the lake and take a boat ride in the cool breeze.
